Walkie-Talkie Used To Trap Violators, Federal Men Say

At a hearing before U. S. Commissioner S. J. Cockrell in Hazard last week, federal agents disclosed how they apprehended operators of a liquor store at Cornettsville who allegedly were selling wholesale quantities of whiskey and beer at a retail store.

According to the testimony of Chad B. Howard of Pineville, one of the agents, stated he used a Signal Corps walkie-talkie to signal the other federal men when he saw men load 29 cases in a pickup truck one night some weeks ago.

After a three mile drive, the federal agents stopped the truck and confiscated 26 cases of whiskey and two cases of wine. James Jackson, driver of the truck, failed to appear at the hearing. He had been released on bond.

The case will be heard in Jackson federal court which goes into session May 9. A Letcher County man, Sam Bates, reported to be owner of the truck hauling the whiskey, was placed under $2,000 bond at the hearing before Commissioner Cockrell.

Go-To-Sunday-School -Day - May 1st

Sunday, May 1st is designated as Go-To-Sunday-School Day throughout the State of Kentucky. The day is set apart, not that there is any special virtue in May 1st or in the Church's emphasis thrust out the State but that the interest and attendance at Sunday School might be encouraged for the spiritual values that are found in its activities.

The Sunday School is one of the primary channels through which the Word of God is taught. The Christian teacher planting the seed of the gospel in the mind of the individual is preparing the heart for a more ready acceptance of the Holy Spirit's message which leads to God and to godliness. Paul tells us (Romans 10:14) that "The gospel is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth."

Therefore, let us take full advantage of the Sunday School to help us in our study to show ourselves approved unto God, workers that need not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of Truth (II

Murder Case Against R. Short Dismissed

A charge of murder was dismissed this week in Letcher Circuit Court against Raymond Short, 24, accused in connection with the death of Junior Vanover of Neon. Commonwealth Attorney Augustus (Gus) Cornett secured the dismissal on motion that there was insufficient evidence in the case.

Vanover was killed near Millstone, Nov. 5, 1948. At the time of the incident it was reported that the slaying occurred at a drinking party at a barn on Millstone Creek.

Fire Kept From Destroying Home

Fire which destroyed a storehouse in the west end of Whitesburg Monday afternoon was prevented from damaging the dwelling house which set about twelve or fifteen feet from the burnt structure. The store house was the property of John M. Adams, county jailer.

Mr. Adams stated that the destroyed building contained a trunk, some clothes, a traveling bag, tools, a heater, and other articles, valued at $800 or $1000 in all. Mr. Adams stated that he would probably get some compensation because he had insurance on his home and furniture.

The residence was damaged some by fire, especially the roof. The Whitesburg fire truck got water on the blaze a short time after the alarm was sounded and Mr. Adams said the work of the fire department probably saved his dwelling house.

Miss Wilma Jean Williams, who is a member of the Senior Class of Saint Mary's School of Nursing, Huntington, West Virginia, has been selected to attend Saint Francis Hospital, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, for a period of time, specializing in psychiatric nursing.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Williams, McRoberts Ky.

UMW Chief Plans Contract Terms At Union Conference

United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis this week set to work drafting his union's 1949 coal contract demands as soft-coal operators were called together to prepare some strategy to offset the demands.

Lewis met with the United Mine Workers' 200-man policy committee at UMW headquarters in Washington to discuss the coming year's union-operator contract. The present contract expires June 30. Lewis and the policy committee will draft demands which will be presented to the mine operators next month in negotiating sessions for a new 1949 bituminous coal contract.

Union, industry, and government officials expect this year's coal wage bargaining to be the hardest-fought in the past ten years. Lewis is expected to demand a six-hour day and 36-hour week in place of the present eight-hour day and 48-hour week. In addition Lewis is expected to ask this year that operators double their royalty payments to the UMW welfare and pension fund. Heretofore, the royalty has been 20 cents a ton.

Jasper McFall, 45, plead guilty to the charge that he murdered his wife and was sentenced Wednesday of this week in Letcher Circuit Court to life imprisonment. The jury recommended that he never be paroled or pardoned.

McFall was charged with killing his wife at their home on Dryfork Feb. 15. He was accused of beating her to death with a broken shotgun. He was arrested in Wise, Va., a few hours after the incident and brought back to Letcher County. In the county jail, McFall did not deny slaying his wife, but said he didn't remember clearly what happened. "I guess I just went crazy," he said. "My wife was always good to me."

Commonwealth Attorney Augustus (Gus) Cornett recommended to the jury that they return a verdict of guilty and fix punishment at life without parole or pardon. Cornett said that, had McFall fought the case through, it would have been necessary to use his own sons' testimony to secure a conviction.

The jury was out about fifteen minutes the first time and came back and reported that they could not agree because they did not understand the instructions. Judge Sam Ward explained that the court did not want to use the McFall sons' testimony to secure a death sentence because they might in later years regret having been instrumental in sending their father to his death. The judge explained that a verdict of life imprisonment without hope of pardon was not binding by law but would carry great weight with state prison authorities.

The jury went out again and returned in about fifteen minutes with a verdict of guilty and fixed punishment at life imprisonment without parole or pardon. Judge Ward passed sentence on McFall immediately following. He instructed Circuit Court Clerk W. L. Stallard Jr., to send a certified copy of the verdict to La Grange with McFall.

Mrs. McFall was 44. There were eight children in the family, ranging in age from five to 29. At the time of McFall's arrest Sheriff Herman Combs said that McFall was a charged about a year ago on a charge of shooting his wife in the arm, but was freed in that trial.

EDITORIAL

THE RUSSIAN COAL MINER

In the April issue of the Atlantic, John Baker White has a revealing article on certain phases of the Russian economy, including the earnings power of workers. He selects a coal miner as an example. This worker has a net income, after taxes and other enforced deductions, of 1,005 rubbles a month. His expenditures for such basic necessities as food and rent come to 920 rubbles. He thus has a balance of 85 rubbles for clothes, recreation, or anything else he may want to buy. Inasmuch as a pair of poor-quality shoes cost 300 rubbles and beef costs up to 100 rubbles per pound, it can be seen that "luxuries" are few and far between for the masses of people under Communism.

How, by comparison, do the coal miners fare in a decadent capitalist nation like the United States, which according to the Soviet press, exploits the masses unmercifully? In December 1948, the last month for which government figures are available, miners averaged $75.06 a week, and that includes absenteeism and part-time workers. Many thousands of miners earned $400 to $500 a month, and some earned 600. The cost of living may be high, but with incomes like that the miners can buy all the necessities they want, and have a goodly sum left over for other purposes.

In addition, the miners have an exceedingly liberal pension plan, paid for by a 20-cent a ton royalty on all coal mined. The pension comes on top of old-age benefits miners receive under the Federal Social Security Act.

Coal is just one of the many examples that can be cited of how our much-criticized profit system, with its roots in free competitive enterprise, divides the wealth. The worker is given the best obtainable tools. And then he gets the financial awards that those tools make possible.

NEWS FOR VETS

World War II veterans maintaining G. I. Insurance were reminded today to be cautious in their use of the 31-day grace period allowed for premium payments.

Take the case of Veteran John Doe. Doe's G. I. Insurance premium falls due on the first of every month. If he doesn't find it convenient to pay his premium when due he has a grace period of 31 days in which he can make payment and keep his insurance from lapsing.

But if John Doe makes a habit of using this grace period every month he is running an extra risk that his policy will lapse because of a few days' forgetfulness.

In Doe's case, his monthly premium will be due May 1 although his insurance will not lapse if he makes his payment by May 31. However, if he waits until May 31 another premium will be due the next day, June 1. And, if he does not make his June payment within 31 days of June 1 his policy will automatically lapse.

The danger is that Doe, as well as thousands of other veterans in the habit of using the grace period each month, is making payments so close to the absolute deadline that a delay of just one or two days may cause him to lose his valuable insurance protection. The grace period is intended to protect the veterans insurance in emergencies, and insurance officials say, should not be used regularly.

VA officials advise all veterans with National Service (GI) Life Insurance to pay their premiums when due and to use the 31-day grace period sparingly.

Danger of allowing insurance to lapse through habitual use of the grace period is more acute for veterans who pay their premiums on a monthly basis, but it is an important point to remember for those who pay every three, six or twelve months.

How Much by the Mile?

It all depends upon whether you're talking about shipping freight, or taking a trip, or building and equipping a mile of railroad.

Railroads haul freight for charges which now average only about 15 cents for moving a ton a mile. They carry passengers for an average charge of only 25 cents a mile.

Such low charges have been possible because private investors have saved up and put up $125,400 for each average mile of railroad line—an investment not only in track, but also in locomotives and cars, bridges and signals, and stations and yards that make up a working railroad.

Because of that investment, America has a railroad system that provides the most economical, as well as the most efficient and the safest mass transportation in the world. What's more, it's a system which not only does not rely upon help from taxpayers—but actually pays into the public treasury in taxes each year almost $4,000 per mile. To keep these railroads abreast of the nation's needs requires not only constant maintenance but a steady program of replacement and improvement—and the costs of doing that are twice what they were before the war.

The only way in which railroads can attract the dollars needed for these replacements and improvements is to earn an adequate return on the money invested in them.

To enable American railroads to continue giving the most economical, most efficient, and the safest mass transportation in the world, it's important to everybody that railroad rates shall be in line with today's cost of producing the service—for tomorrow's railroads depend on today's earnings.

Kentucky To Stop Illegal Companies Selling Insurance

Director of Insurance Cad P. Thurman recently struck at the practice of unauthorized insurance companies, not admitted to write risks in Kentucky, doing so indirectly through reinsurance with other companies authorized to do business in the state. Thurman sent orders to all fire and casualty insurance companies authorized to do business in Kentucky that this situation produces "an unfair competitive position detrimental to admitted companies, makes adjustment of losses difficult, and results in the loss of tax revenue to which the Commonwealth is entitled."

"You are hereby advised that no admitted insurance company shall be permitted to reinsure, directly or indirectly, a non-admitted insurer on business or risks written by a non-admitted carrier on risks in Kentucky at rates and forms not in accordance with the filings of the admitted company or companies," Thurman continued.

It is felt that such practices violate the intent of both our rating statutes and our revenue producing measures," he said.

BY EWING GALLOWAY

"The profession of law is the only aristocratic element which can be amalgamated without violence with the natural elements of democracy and which can be advantageously and permanently combined with them."

De Touqueville, famous French scholar and statesman, wrote the foregoing truthful lines in his "Democracy in America" a century ago.

Certainly legal minds have guided the destiny of this nation from its birth until today, and what might have become of the American republic without them is hard to imagine.

All my life I have heard people sneer at lawyers, saying they serve the public only when they have something to gain, and most of my life I have found the contrary to be true.

There is not a community betterment project in Kentucky in this good year 1949 that cannot get the free services of a lawyer for the asking. And every civic organization can use the sound advice of a good lawyer quite often.

Here in western Kentucky lawyers have been generous with their professional work in farmers' organizations, farm bureaus, cooperatives, protective organizations for the apprehension and prosecution of thieves.

Recently the Committee for Henderson City and County picked a lawyer, John Palmore, for its president.

If I were to form a business partnership with as many as four persons in it I would want one of them to be a lawyer. Any civic organization in the state that does not have a lawyer participating in all its councils should get one and apologize for not asking him to join up long ago.

While I'm on the subject of lawyers let me run the risk of being accused of giving a free ad to the legal profession by offering a suggestion to people with all kinds of business transactions. In the educational literature of insurance companies, public health organizations, you are told repeatedly to see your doctor when anything gets the water with you. Few times if any have you been urged to see a lawyer when you have business deals to make.

Not long ago a man in our County bought a farm for $10,000. Several months later he dug up his deed and read it. It didn't seem to be exactly right, so he took it to a lawyer. He had paid his good money for the life interest of a woman 79 years old and nothing more. For a nominal fee a lawyer had saved the man a $10,000 headache.

Danville To Hold June Conference On Child Delinquency

Eleven national and state leaders in the field of juvenile delinquency are to speak and lead discussions at Danville June 14-15 in a state-wide conference entitled, "Our Drifting Youth", it has been announced. Centre College and Danville civic organizations are joint sponsors of the conference, which will be open to the public.

The conference, expected to be one of the biggest of its kind ever held in Kentucky, is designed especially for parents, teachers, ministers, social workers, and other leaders of youth. A number of rooms in Centre's dormitories will be available without cost to overnight visitors. All meetings will be held at the Lexington Avenue Baptist Church.

Pointing to the purpose of the conference, Dr. Walter A. Groves, president of Centre, explained that "As times change, many of the problems of youth change. This conference is an attempt to understand some of these new problems, get at their roots, and find ways of solution." The Centre president extended a "cordial welcome to all who may be able to attend the sessions."

Whitesburg High School's Coach Ray Pigman will leave today for Lexington where he will attend a two-day coaching clinic at the University of Kentucky.

Pfc. Herbert Baker

Pfc. Herbert Baker was born Nov. 18, 1925. He enlisted in the U. S. Army Feb. 17, 1944 and was wounded in Germany March 9, 1945. He paid the supreme sacrifice the following day in an army hospital in Brink, Germany, at the age of 19 years, three months, and 20 days. He entered the army at the age of 18 years, two months, and 29 days.

He had always been a humble and meek boy from childhood and never gave his father or mother any trouble. At the time of his passing he was serving in the 11th Armored Infantry in the 3rd Army under General Patton. Shortly before the terrible news came to the family of his passing, he wrote to Jim and Ogie and told them he was going to Church every chance he had and said "I am going again today." He wrote again to a girl friend and said "I wish I could be with you to go to Sunday school. I never thought I could pray but I surely can and will be a better boy."

He wrote the family, too, and told them he used to think he couldn't pray but now "I find it easy to pray." He wrote Jim and told him "I was sleeping out in the sun and dreamed I saw a green field like the one at home and I was plowing with the horse on the hill and I longed to be home and for those good old days. Maybe it won't be long until the war will be over." True, it wasn't much longer with Herbert until he laid down his carnal weapons of warfare, far from his childhood land and the ones he loved and his soul went on over to the City of God to dwell with the one who had made it so easy for him to pray and to where cruel wars don't come, to await the redemption of his body and to wait for father and mother.

Oh how glad he would be to clasp the hands of his five brothers, Elijah, Jessie, Bill, Henry, and Bradley, and his five sisters, Opal, Maybelle, Matilda, Ata, and Nettie. May the time speedily come that each one like Herbert can say "Yes, it comes easy to pray now."

Funeral services were held at the residence in Millstone, Ky., on Wednesday, April 27, at 10:00 a. m., with Elder Willis Tolliver and Noah Bentley officiating. Burial was in the Baker Cemetery, Millstone, Ky. Craft Funeral Home in charge of funeral arrangements.

Jenkins Loses Beloved Citizen

(Reprinted from the April Checkboard)

ARVEL WENDELL BOGGS In recent years, death has taken several distinguished citizens of Jenkins but none has shocked the community more than the passing of that lovable character "AW." He was faithful to the end as a husband, father, an employee, and the Masonic Lodge which was so close to his heart. In the language of his brother masons, he had divested his heart and conscience of all the vices and superfluities of life, and fitted his mind, as a living stone, for that spiritual building, that "house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

"AW" was one of Consol's most trusted and faithful employees, being chief clerk in the treasurer's office and having worked for Consol about thirty years. His first work was as a laborer in the construction department. Following that, he worked as tippleman, brakeman, recreation building clerk, supply clerk, and payroll clerk.

Survivors of his family are his wife, Mrs. Beulah Davidson Boggs, two daughters, Mrs. Emogene Anderson and Miss Leah Jane Boggs, and a son, Wendell Davidson Boggs, all of Jenkins, and to whom we extend our most sincere sympathy.

Obituary in Memory of J. Martin Potter

As the new day dawned last Wednesday morning, J. Martin Potter ended his pilgrimage on this earth and went on to join his many relatives and friends in that celestial kingdom that he spoke of so often. He died suddenly and apparently without pain. It looked as though the Savior claimed him while in a restful sleep.

For many weeks he had told his wife and children that the time was near. He often quoted the scripture to his children about "death coming as a thief in the night." He told them he had lived his time and that he was ready to claim his crown.

Brother Potter was 74 years of age at the time of his death. For more than twenty-five years he had been a faithful member of the Old Regular Baptist Church. He held fast to the faith until the end.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, three boys, and six girls: Creed of Neon, Lloyd of Payne Gap, John M. of Bedford, Virgie of Arizona, Essie of Holbrook of Neon, Lenna of Holbrook of Neon, Gladys of Michael of Baltimore, Gladys of Neon, Beulah Flannery of Baltimore, and a host of other relatives and friends.

He was widely known in this county and in this section of the country, having served the people for four years as county sheriff. He never refused to help anyone who came to him when they were in need. His neighbors told his wife and children that they would miss Brother Mart as much as they would.

Life is real, life is earnest. And the grave is not its goal. Dust thou art, to dust returneth.

Was not spoken of the soul.

Whitesburg Teacher Has Success Writing Of Mountain Folks

Mr. W. L. Stallard, Sr., teacher of English and Spanish at Whitesburg High School, has recently sold several short stories to leading magazines and now has a novel in the hands of publishers and another volume of short stories ready. All his stories, Mr. Stallard says, are centered around mountain people and mountain settings.

Mr. Stallard has been teaching at Whitesburg for 28 years, the last 13 being with the high school. He has taught history, Spanish, English, bookkeeping and journalism. Among the magazines he has sold fiction to are the Vagabond Gazette, Cumberland Empire, and the Progressive Farmer.

The novel now in the hands of the publishers is tentatively entitled "Before the Stars" and has its setting on the Upper Kentucky River and Elkhorn sections. The book of short stories will be called "Gold of the Mountains" and will also have a mountaineer flavor. The novel has been placed with E. P. Dutton Company, publishers.

Contrary to reports, Mr. Stallard says he does not contemplate giving up teaching.

Verlin D. Whitaker recently returned to Whitesburg from Michigan where he has been employed. Mr. Whitaker is an electrician and plumber

Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie Davidson, who were married on March 28th, in a beautiful formal wedding at the Baptist Church. Mrs. Davidson was before her marriage Miss Betty Jo Combs, daughter of Sheriff and Mrs. Herman Combs. Young Davidson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ad Davidson of Seec.

ARE YOU AN UMBRELLA SNATCHER?

When it's raining do you take the family umbrella and make your wife and children walk in the rain?

We don't recall that we have ever seen a man snatch an umbrella from his wife and children in a storm. BUT WE HAVE SEEN A FEW MEN NOT ONLY SNATCH THE UMBRELLA, BUT JERK THE RUG FROM UNDER HIS WIDOW AND ORPHANS IN A STORM.

When your own life insurance in fair weather (good times) and lapse it, or don't buy it in foul weather (so called 'bad times') you are what we term a FAIR WEATHER UMBRELLA TOTER... that is you tote it for your family in fair weather... but do not tote it when the storms come. Of course men do not do that with malice in their hearts. THEY DO IT UNTHOUGHTEDLY... DO NOT TAKE TIME TO THINK THE PROBLEM THROUGH. ON WHOSE SHOULDERS WOULD AN UNFORSEEN CALAMITY COME TO REST? ON THE SHOULDERS OF HIS YOUNG CHILDREN... THE LAST PLACE IN THIS WORLD HE WOULD LIKE TO SEE IT REST. So get your insurance from us now... cease the dangerous pussy-footing.

BROWNIE'S Buttons N' Bows Shoppe

Is the name chosen for the new shoppe which Mrs. Chris Brown has opened in the City of Hazard. To Mr. Brown goes credit for this very quaint name which exhibitors at Market say is the first shoppe to their knowledge to be opened by this name.

I have for many years put the very best into this work. I have justly earned the business which I have opened and know that the patrons which have catered to me and placed their confidence in me deserve the service which I plan to give them. I have studied women. I have learned about many of their likes and dislikes. I have learned to size up my fair sex and put the costume on her that will bring out the best in her appearance. I know immediately what she approves and disapproves of.

My Shoppe will carry a complete line of Ready-to-Wear starting with Junior 7 through 17. Misses sizes 12 and up. Half sizes from 12 1-2 through 47 1-2. Hats, Gloves, Purses, Lingrie, Costume Jewelry, Scarfs, Dresses, Suits, Coats, everything for a comfortable wardrobe.

Buttons N' Bow Shoppe is located at 508 East Main Street close to Begley Drug and opposite Johnson Funeral Home.

My home has been completely remodeled with modern fixtures, lighting, and is equipped with Ladies Lounge and rest room.

The word welcome will be over the front door, my smiles and personal touch on the inside. Quality merchandise will be your assurance of the well dressed woman.

This is your Home of Personalized Service.

Sincerely,

MRS. CHRIS BROWN.

Speak On Welfare

Mr. John P. Jarvis, Assistant Commissioner of State Department of Welfare was guest speaker at the regular 6:30 P. Grant Ison Goes Home

Grant, the first of the family of Mose and Julia Cornett Ison, was a great-grandson of his pioneer ancestors, Gideon Ison and William Cornett, who came to these hills of ours in 1796.

Born on Linefork Creek of this county, he grew to manhood with his five brothers and two sisters, all of whom have long since gone to their reward. He moved with his father's family to the Ison farm two miles up the river above Blackey.

In young manhood he qualified and taught school in this county on Linefork and at the mouth of Rockhouse Creek. Later he engaged in various business activities, timber, logs, merchandising, and livestock. His undertakings were generally successful.

He was the type of man that made up a great portion of the business citizenship of these mountains of our fifty years ago. It was a peculiar citizenship, rugged, honest, and substantial. We see only a small portion of it down to this day.

In the year 1894 he married Susan Frazier, who made him a devoted companion to the end. To them were born three sons, Herman, Blaine, and Hobart, the two former having gone to their reward years ago. His wife and Hobart and many relatives and friends survive him. His sons were unexcelled as good citizens with good business qualifications.

In the year 1919 he lost his eye sight. For thirty years he had to grope in darkness, never saw the beauties of this natural life nor the faces of his family and friends. But he learned to recognize them by their voices. This is the greatest handicap that can ever come to a man.

In 1936 Grant felt the pardoning power of God, took fellowship with the Regular Baptist Church, was baptized at his request, by Elder Lou Riddle and lived a consecrated life to the end.

His last sickness was about seven months long. The best medical skill was sought but in vain. He was patient to the end, gently going to sleep as one goes to rest from a tired day's work. He died on Wednesday, April 13, 1949, at 4 p. m., at the age of 82 years, one month and nine days. He had defied the span of life, decreed in the prayer of David, when he said in the ninth Psalm that "The days of our years are three score and ten." He has even gone farther and exceeded the next limit, set out in this prayer, that says "And if by reason of strength they be four score years, yet is their strength labor and sorrow."

He knew labor and sorrow, hardships and knocks. He loved his neighbors and they loved him. One particular scripture he would often quote, "He that believeth on me shall have everlasting life."

"It is not death to die, to leave this weary road, and midst the brotherhood on high to be at home with God."

We are sacrificing our prices in order to give the General Public the greatest opportunity in History. A possibility for them, buying the high class merchandise at a very, very low price, and of course we make it possible to have the peoples needs of Mase, and it's up to them to come to our store and get the mase, and you may say at their own prices, as we know that the general public has shown their appreciation in the past, by patronizing our business.

We have thousands of prices at very low prices that we cannot list on this page, due to limited space, but you will find it if you visit our store.
When you trade with us your money speaks louder than it would in any other store in the country. The old saying (for an example) when God created a human he gave them a head, including a certain amount of brains and of course some of the amount of plantation will grow up.
Some of them will have more brains in their head than brains, and some have more brains have room to put it. So it is a matter of choice, but in reality the amount of the brains to fit the right amount of balancing the amount of space, so you can be one of them.
It's your head that's well balanced with your brains and doing business with us you will have more money to spend, more friends, more parking space, and more merchandise to select from. Visit our store once, then you will realize what you have been losing and you will bring your best friends or you will send them to our store.

WE WANT TO THANK OUR GOOD CUSTOMERS AND PROSPECTS.

Slayer of Woman At Robinson Creek Hunted by Officers

The search for the alleged murderer of Mrs. Avonelle Collins, young woman of Robinson Creek, is being pushed steadily, Lawrence Branch, Pike County deputy sheriff reported this week.

The murder occurred in early March at the Collins' home not far from the Letcher County line in Pike County. Blaine Edgar Jones, self-styled census-taker, was accused of the crime.

The reward for Jones, first placed at $100, will be increased, Pike County Sheriff D. C. Moore said. A few hours after the crime, Jones is supposed to have sold the young woman's ring and watch in Pikeville. He was later traced to West Virginia but the trail has since vanished.

Jenkins Cavaliers Defeat Kingsport In Exhibition Game

The Jenkins Cavaliers, Mountain States League, defeated the Kingsport Indians, Appalachian League, on the Jenkins diamond Tuesday night by a score of 10 to 7. An exhibition game, the contest was seen by a large and responsive crowd.

One of the highlights of the game was the home run hit by Cavaliers' Jack Hall in the second inning. Mays pitched 4 1-2 innings for the winners while Screen was on the mound the rest of the way.

State Field Dental Unit Visits Jenkins To Examine Children

Sponsored by the Jenkins Kiwanis Club, a mobile dental unit of the State Department of Health has been in Jenkins several weeks. Dr. Fred Beckner of Louisville, assisted by his wife who is a trained nurse is in charge of the unit.

The objective of this program is better health through better care of the teeth. To attain the objective an effort is being made to educate the children to understand the importance of dental health and to teach them how it may be maintained.

Through lectures by Dr. Beckner to the children in school and by means of picture films, they are taught correct nutrition, correct home care of the teeth and the necessity of frequent visits to the dentist so minor corrections may be made before it is too late and extractions is the only solution.

At the outset of the program the children in the first six grades were sent to Dr. Beckner to have their teeth examined. Each child was given a card, indicating the condition of his or her teeth, for delivery to the child's parents, with the thought the parents would see that the child received proper treatment at the hands of the dentist of their choice. In some cases, however, Dr. Beckner is making the necessary corrections.

At this writing over 1100 pupils have had their teeth examined. We are advised by Dr. Beckner that of this number 15 per cent were found to have good teeth and 85 per cent had one or more teeth requiring repair. He says 30 per cent had abscessed teeth, i. e., teeth which should be removed and only 8 per cent have fillings in their teeth. He also says the dental health of the Jenkins school children, when he examined it, was much lower than in other counties where similar surveys have been made.

It is evident, he states, that only a small per cent of Jenkins children are making frequent visits to the dentist and on the whole they are getting dental treatment only in emergency. It is his thought parents do not realize the importance of baby teeth as a guide to the permanent teeth which form beneath the baby teeth, and, too, make the mistake of neglecting six-year molars which result in the loss of these important teeth early in life.

Dr. Beckner states that 90 per cent of dentistry can be prevented by early and frequent treatment; that the application of sodium fluoride when the child is 3, 7, 10 and 13 years of age will prevent 40 per cent of the cavities from occurring; further, that dental decay can be controlled and if controlled will mean the child will have a greater opportunity for health and happiness. If not controlled, it may mean a wrecked face, a wrecked smile and possibly a wrecked body. He lays the responsibility squarely in the lap of parents.

Auto Drivers Warned To Dim Car Lights

Disturbed by reports from motorists blinded by headlights, Guthrie F. Crowe, Commissioner of Kentucky State Police, has asked for enforcement of a law requiring night drivers to dim their headlights when within 500 feet of an approaching vehicle. "Since every driver has experienced the unnerving sensation of being temporarily blinded by bright headlights, it is difficult to understand why the highway protective requirements is not 100 per cent voluntary," Crowe stated. "Drivers at night should also dim their lights when following another car," Crowe added. "It is a matter of courtesy as well as law and any driver who fails to obey these laws has no place in the society of safeminded motorists."

Don't Miss This

Two very important topics will be discussed at the First Baptist Church, Whitesburg, Sunday morning and evening by Rev. Marion E. Parker, pastor of the church. At the morning service at ten-fifty Mr. Parker will speak "The Truth About Sanctification". He will give the clear Bible teaching as to what it is, when it happens, and what it does.

At the evening service at seven-thirty Mr. Parker will speak on "The Truth About Sinless Perfection". He will give clear, easy to understand statements as to what Bible Christians believed about it, what the Bible says about it, and why people believe in it today.

You will want to hear both of these Bible messages.

The Early Insects
Now that the days are getting warmer, the insects will emerge, among the earliest, black fleabeetles, Colorado beetles and green worms. The fleabeetle is that small, hopping beetle that riddles leaves of potatoes; also those of newset tomatoes, and later, sweet potato slips. Because the holes it makes are extremely small, not too much attention is sometimes paid them, but this damage can and does set back potatoes, and may make resetting necessary for tomatoes and "sweets".

The best material for protection against fleabeetles and the Colorado beetles is DDT dust or spray. As a ready-to-use dust, it comes in two strengths 3 per cent and 5 per cent. Either strength may be used on potatoes, but on tomatoes only the 3 per cent should be used, as their foliage is rather tender. For spraying, 50 per cent wettable DDT should be used. For potatoes the rate is two level tablespoons per gallon of water, and for tomatoes, one tablespoon.

On potatoes, three applications should be made: First, when all the plants have just broken through; with the second and third following at 10 day intervals. Three such applications have increased yields from 25 per cent to 80 per cent; a half-crop extra may reasonably be expected.

Also, by reason of the potatoes' unhampered growing, potatoes of usable size can sometimes be had three weeks earlier.

To protect tomato plants from being "sucked to death", they should be dusted or sprayed immediately they are set, as then is when fleabeetles gather. Usually one application will suffice.

As for cabbage worms, the eggs laid by the yellow butterflies perhaps now hovering over the garden, nothing is better than rotenone dust. However, its strength should be 3-4 per cent or better. DDT would kill these worms, but there is the risk of poisoning particularly after the cabbage has begun to head.

2 cups crushed peaches
1-2 teaspoons vanilla
Make a custard of beaten egg, sugar, salt and scalded milk, cooking over hot water until it coats the spoon. Cool. Fold in the Whipped cream, and flavoring, and freeze to the mushy stage. Fold in crushed peaches and continue freezing.

Eight parts of ice to one of sale gives a good texture for freezing ice cream. If a freezer or mechanical refrigerator is not available, desserts may be put into a can and packed in ice and salt. Use the proportion of one part of salt to one part of ice in such instances.

Menu: Tuna fish loaf, creamed lima beans, broccoli, fruit salad, corn sticks, butter and peach ice cream.

MARLOW 4-H CLUB

by John Dale Miller Reporter
Our latest meeting was held at the Marlow School on April 19, with 36 members present. Eleven boys and 25 girls.

The President, Lucille Stidham, called the meeting to order, then we had the 4-H, American, and Christian flag pledges. She then called the roll which we answered by giving a name of an article that should be in every medicine cabinet.

We had the minutes of the last meeting by our secretary, Esma Halcomb. Then we had a program, the topic was "Better To Be Safe Than Sorry". The first talk was "Where do we Start?" by Zarnie Pearson, "Learn to Recognize Hazards on the Farm" by Pearl Pennington, "He Forgot" by Bobby Jo Hamilton, and a skit "The Goblins Will Get You" presented by the leader and four members.

We played games "Can You" and "Simon Says." Miss Halcomb taught us some songs "Pick a Bale of Cotton" and "A Swiss Song". Our school got the most blue ribbons at the Style Show and Lucille Stidham won a trip to Lexington to 4-H Week.

Kingdom Come Man, Missing Since March, Visiting Indiana

Fred Adams of Kingdom Come, a relative of Herman Isom who had been missing since March 6, returned home this week from a search to locate Isom and said he found the missing man at the home of his sister, Mrs. Easter Akeman, in Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Adams said Isom had spent several weeks in Hot Springs, Ark., and did not say when he would return home to Letcher County.

The missing merchant was first believed to have been murdered and his body buried in a lot behind his store at Kingdom Come. His wife, Mrs. Amanda Isom, and three of her sons were arrested and placed in Letcher County jail after another younger son told a schoolmate his father had been murdered.

The family was released when a daughter in Cincinnati telephoned Jailer John M. Adams that Isom had been there visiting. A number of searches have been made by Sheriff Herman Combs to locate the missing man or find his body.
